Welcome to the Pikes Peak Region

The Way Colorado Was Meant to be Experienced

You'll find an abundance of unique cultural and recreational opportunities awaiting you in Colorado Springs, no matter what time of year you are visiting. Enjoy breathtaking views of Pikes Peak, our most prominent landmark, or go to the top of the mountain by foot, automobile, or cog railway. Visit Garden of the Gods, the magnificent park of red sandstone formations, a spiritual retreat of ancient peoples. Explore collections of Hispanic, Native American, and western American art, including works by Georgia O'Keefe, at the Fine Arts Center in downtown. Learn a little about the Air Force, past and present, at Colorado's most frequently visited man-made attraction, the Air Force Academy.

Many other attractions await you, as well as a myriad of shopping and dining opportunities in our vibrant downtown and throughout the city. Also stop to enjoy our many downtown outdoor sculptures that are placed on several corners and medians.

Founded in 1872, Colorado Springs has evolved from frontier town to world-class international community, boasting a blend of high-tech companies, military installations, and national non-profit organizations, such as the Olympic Training Center. The landscape of our city also includes many parks, trails, and open spaces. Over a half-million people call the Pikes Peak region home and we're proud of our healthy economy and the incredible quality of life we enjoy.

We look forward to welcoming you to Colorado Springs, and hope you have a wonderful visit.

Lionel Rivera
Mayor, Colorado Springs

Welcome to El Paso County! Our beautiful area encompasses countless attractions ranging from prairie and antelope in the east to the impressive Garden of the Gods and world-famous Pikes Peak in the west. We preserve the old and embrace the new—horses to high tech! Our cosmopolitan city sports an array of giant shopping malls, diverse restaurants and a vibrant downtown featuring cultural and recreational entertainment. Whether your interests lie in healthful outdoor activities, Old West rodeos or big city events, we hope your good times here become future treasured memories.

GHOST TOWN
MUSEUM

Welcome to the Wild West.

Step straight into the days of America's western frontier by exploring a complete old-west ghost town from the 1800s. Each building, including a vintage Victorian home, showcases some of the most fascinating collections from the rough-and-tumble days of the wild west. Enjoy lots of hands-on activities for kids, gold panning, the Taming of the West theater, the museum's western store and much, much more!

Take I-25 to exit I41; go 1.5 miles west on Highway 24 to 21st Street.
Located next to Van Briggles Pottery. Open daily, year round.

Travel and Regional Information

GETTING HERE AND AROUND

The Colorado Springs Airport handles approximately 100 flights per day on eight airlines and has one of the country's best on-time records. Many hotels provide transportation to and from the airport. Scenic Interstate 25 provides direct north/south access between Denver and Pueblo. Colorado Springs is 60 miles south of Denver, about a one hour drive. Comparing the costs of tickets between the two might save you some money. From the new Colorado Springs Airport, downtown Colorado Springs is about a 25-35 minute drive. Visit the Colorado Springs Airport web site at flyCOS.com for a complete schedule of departures, arrivals and servicing airlines and airports.

Colorado Springs is extremely accessible. The city is served by several major highways, with two U.S. Interstate highways (I-70 & I-25) intersecting 70 miles north in Denver. Highways passing through Colorado Springs include Interstate 25, U.S. Highways 85/87 and 24, and Colorado Highways 83, 94, 115 and 122. The easiest and most convenient way to enter the state of Colorado is by visiting one of the many Welcome Centers, where visitors are greeted and given a wealth of valuable information to assist them during their visit.

Lieutenant Zebulon Pike wandered into the region on a cool November day in 1806 and turned away from what is now called Pikes Peak, claiming that no man would ever ascend this great mountain. To reinforce this proclamation, he named it "Grand Peak." Though he never experienced reaching the Peak's summit, "Grand Peak" was renamed Pikes Peak in honor of Zebulon's discovery.

In 1870, General William Jackson Palmer, on first seeing the Colorado Springs and Pikes Peak region, wrote to his wife: "Could one live in constant view of these grand mountains without being elevated by them into a lofty plane of thought and purpose?" Almost immediately, Palmer began planning the city of his dreams, one that would become a major resort community. Today, 135 years later, people by the millions continue to come from all over the world, drawn by the same beauty that forever changed Palmer.

Today, a number of smaller towns and historical districts lie near Colorado Springs. Just west of Colorado Springs on Colorado Avenue is Old Colorado City, a historic and quaint shopping district. Take Hwy 24 to Manitou Springs, a scenic town nestled at the foot of Pikes Peak. Continue west on Highway 24 to the communities of Green Mountain Falls, Chipita Park and Cascade, offering charm and history to all visitors. Woodland Park is a delightful community near many state parks, national forests, campgrounds and hiking trails. Also, within an hour's drive from Colorado Springs is Cañon City (to the south) and Cripple Creek (to the west), where one can experience other exciting attractions.

PIKES PEAK—ONE MOUNTAIN, A MULTITUDE OF ACTIVITIES

Pikes Peak – America's Mountain – is the crown jewel of the Pike National Forest and the center of Colorado Springs' area activities. Hosting more than 300,000 visitors each year, Pikes Peak offers both the young and the young at heart scenic outdoor adventures and activities.

After failing to reach the 14,110 foot summit in 1806, Lieutenant Zebulon Pike named the mountain "Grand Peak" and proclaimed that no man would ever ascend it. Grand Peak was later renamed Pikes Peak in honor of his discovery. Since the days of Zebulon Pike, the mountain has been ascended in a variety of ways, including a wagon trip more than a century ago that inspired Katharine Lee Bates to write "America the Beautiful."

Today, Pikes Peak is one of America's most visited mountains, allowing visitors of all activity levels to enjoy the beautiful mountain at their own pace. Relaxing vacationers can ride through the clouds on the Pikes Peak Cog Railway, the world's highest cog railroad and the highest railroad in the United States. The Pikes Peak Cog Railway stretches nine miles and spans an amazing 7,539 vertical feet. Freeing themselves of transportation worries, visitors are able to completely absorb the panoramic views of Colorado Springs, Garden of the Gods and the snow-capped Rocky Mountains.

Outdoor and exercise enthusiasts can hike the 12-mile Barr Trail to the summit. By hiking to the top, visitors relish the clean mountain air and interact with the nature and wildlife on the mountain. Hikers can find satisfaction in climbing to the top of Colorado's most famous "14er" that Zebulon Pike claimed would never be reached. And, if hiking to the summit isn't enough, cyclists can arrange to experience the adventure and thrill of descending Pikes Peak on two wheels. Ring the Peak is a collection of trails, four wheel drive roads, and a few roads that circumnavigates Pikes Peak in Colorado. The trails cross federal, state, county, city, and sometimes private lands. The total length of the trail system is approximately 63 miles with approximately 80% of the trails completed by spring, 2005 and the remaining 20% scheduled to be completed by 2007. The altitude ranges between a low of 6,400 feet in Manitou Springs to a high of 11,400 feet in Bull Park, so many of the trails are useable only during the late spring, summer, and early fall. Nine portals have been designated as access points to the trails, although there are numerous other ways to find your way to the trails.

As close to Africa as you'll get without a passport.

A trip to Cheyenne Mountain Zoo, America's only mountain zoo, is your chance to connect with over 650 animals from Africa and the rest of the world, including the opportunity to hand-feed our magnificent giraffe herd. Get in touch with your wild side at our new interactive African Rift Valley exhibit, an experience you won't find anywhere else in the world.

- ▶ Voted "Best Place for Family Fun"
- ▶ Open 9-5 daily
- ▶ Admission includes free access to "Will Rogers Shrine of the Sun"
- ▶ Breathtaking mountain scenery

Rise Above It All!

PIKES PEAK COG RAILWAY

For more than 100 years, passengers have taken the cog railway in safety and comfort to the top of Pikes Peak, 14,110 feet. Relax, enjoy the views and watch for bighorn sheep and other wildlife as you head up in safe and modern Swiss-made railcars. The vistas of the Great Plains and the majestic Continental Divide inspired the song "America the Beautiful." Open seven days a week from mid-April through December.

Information and Reservations

Since 1891

WELCOME!

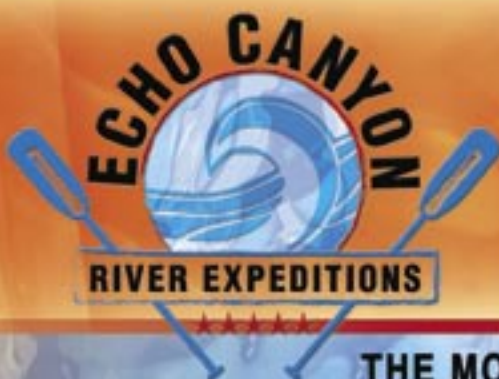

When you come to Colorado Springs and the Pikes Peak region, an experience of a lifetime awaits you! Our landscape, with its unlimited spaciousness, serves as a stage for many outdoor recreational opportunities, ranging from whitewater river rafting, rock climbing, hiking, golf, horseback riding, mountain biking, fishing, skiing and even hot air ballooning. With the sun shining 300 days a year, you can enjoy these activities year-round!

It was former president Theodore Roosevelt who said that to describe the beauty of Colorado Springs and the Pikes Peak region "bankrupts the English language." Yet it was Katharine Lee Bates who looked upon our great city in 1893 from atop Pikes Peak, our fabulous 14,110 foot mountain, and was so inspired, she wrote the poem "America the Beautiful," an anthem that our nation still sings today. One of the highest mountains in Colorado, Pikes Peak, our "purple mountain majesty" is just one reason over six million people visit our region every year.

Colorado Springs may be nestled at the foot of the spectacular Rocky Mountains, but our mild and dry climate gives visitors and residents plenty of opportunities to enjoy our beautiful outdoors. Whether you want to enjoy a leisurely stroll downtown, hike in the crisp and clean air of our mountains, drive through the beautiful Garden of the Gods park, tackle a trail on foot or on your mountain bike, or just window shop in along the numerous historic districts throughout our region, Colorado Springs is a place for the entire family to enjoy. There are over 50 major area attractions to be experienced (many of them free!) and dozens of community-wide special events throughout the year.

We have accommodations to suit all your needs, from the 5-Star, 5-Diamond Broadmoor, to full or limited-service hotels, motels, bed and breakfasts, campgrounds and more. We look forward to seeing you in Colorado Springs soon so we can shower you with our famous western hospitality!

WHEN VISITING IN THE FALL/WINTER/SPRING (OCTOBER-MAY)

- Dress in warmer layers (wool sweaters, long sleeve shirts, jeans, wool pants, gloves/mittens, light scarf, hats, waterproof shoes)
- Umbrella
- Hat with brim for sun protection
- Sunglasses
- Wear effective sunscreen
- Drink plenty of water before and during your visit

A common misconception about Colorado Springs and the Pikes Peak region is that our winters and heavy snowfall begin in November or December. Nothing could be further from the truth. October, November, December and many days in January and February are still sunny and relatively mild. The biggest difference between these months and our summers is that the temperatures are just lower, with mornings and evenings at times cold enough for a heavy jacket. However, the days can still be sunny, with temperatures in the 40s, 50s, and sometimes 60s. Again, dress in layers, but with thicker garments. The months where snowfall accumulation is at its highest here are March, April and even May. But again, even with snow on the ground, the skies are very often clear and sunny. So if you're visiting during our snowfall months, make sure you're wearing layers of warm clothing, have a hat and gloves, and have footwear that is waterproof and slip-proof for those patches of snow you might encounter along during your adventures.

HIGH ALTITUDE TIPS

When visiting Colorado Springs and the Pikes Peak region, there are several ways you can give your body the time it needs to adjust to the altitude and prevent altitude sickness.

- Stay below 7,000 feet the first day (the City of Colorado Springs is 6,035 feet above sea level)
- Avoid strenuous exercise the first day of your vacation here
- Drink lots of water before and after your arrival
- Avoid alcohol and tobacco
- When sightseeing, work your way up to higher altitudes at about 1,000 feet per day
- Give your body time to adjust (there's so much to see and do at the lower altitude levels!)

If you follow these simple suggestions, you are sure to enjoy each day of your Colorado Springs and Pikes Peak region vacation. If you have any questions or would like additional information, please call Memorial Hospitals Healthline at 719-444-CARE or EmergiCare at 719-590-1701 and they'll be glad to assist you!

OUR GREAT OUTDOORS

Colorado Springs and the Pikes Peak region receives 300 days of sunshine each year, providing an excellent environment for outdoor adventures. A wide range of activities such as hiking, mountain biking, mountain climbing, backpacking, whitewater rafting and fishing invite outdoor enthusiasts of all ages and interests to the area.

With hundreds of hiking trails, the Pikes Peak region allows visitors to enjoy leisurely walks along the mountainous landscape as well as challenging rock-climbing excursions on the mountainsides. Hikers and backpackers can find trails at popular tourist areas such as Seven Falls, Helen Hunt Falls, Garden of the Gods and the Air Force Academy. One of the most-hiked trails in the region, the Barr Trail, ascends to the summit of Colorado's most famous 14er – Pikes Peak. Hikers who prefer less-traveled paths can find adventure and exploration opportunities all along the front range.

The Pikes Peak region offers a tremendous variety for mountain biking enthusiasts as well, from casual to extreme. For the casual biker, the new Santa Fe Trail winds along the foothills of the Rocky Mountains from Colorado Springs, through the Air Force Academy and all the way to the town of Palmer Lake. In total, the Santa Fe Trail covers more than 30 miles. Paved trails through the more than 1,300 acres of Garden of the Gods also provide a scenic tour for casual riders through the 300 million-year-old towering red sandstone formations. Riders who prefer rougher trails can find more technical and challenging routes in Cheyenne Canyon, Palmer Park, Pikes Peak and all around the area. The ultimate mountain biking experience for riders of all levels and ages, however, might be descending more than 7,000 vertical feet from the summit of Pikes Peak.

While most outdoor activities in the Pikes Peak region take place on solid ground, water adventures are another popular pastime. The Arkansas River is only one hour from Colorado Springs and provides the source for mild to wild whitewater rafting trips. Whether it's a half-day outing or a three-day trek, rafting on the Arkansas is for everyone – with moderate stretches for novices and families and adventure-class whitewater for the wild at heart. Rafting the Arkansas River is one way to experience parts of Colorado that are not accessible by any other means of transportation – such as the 1,053 foot Royal Gorge.

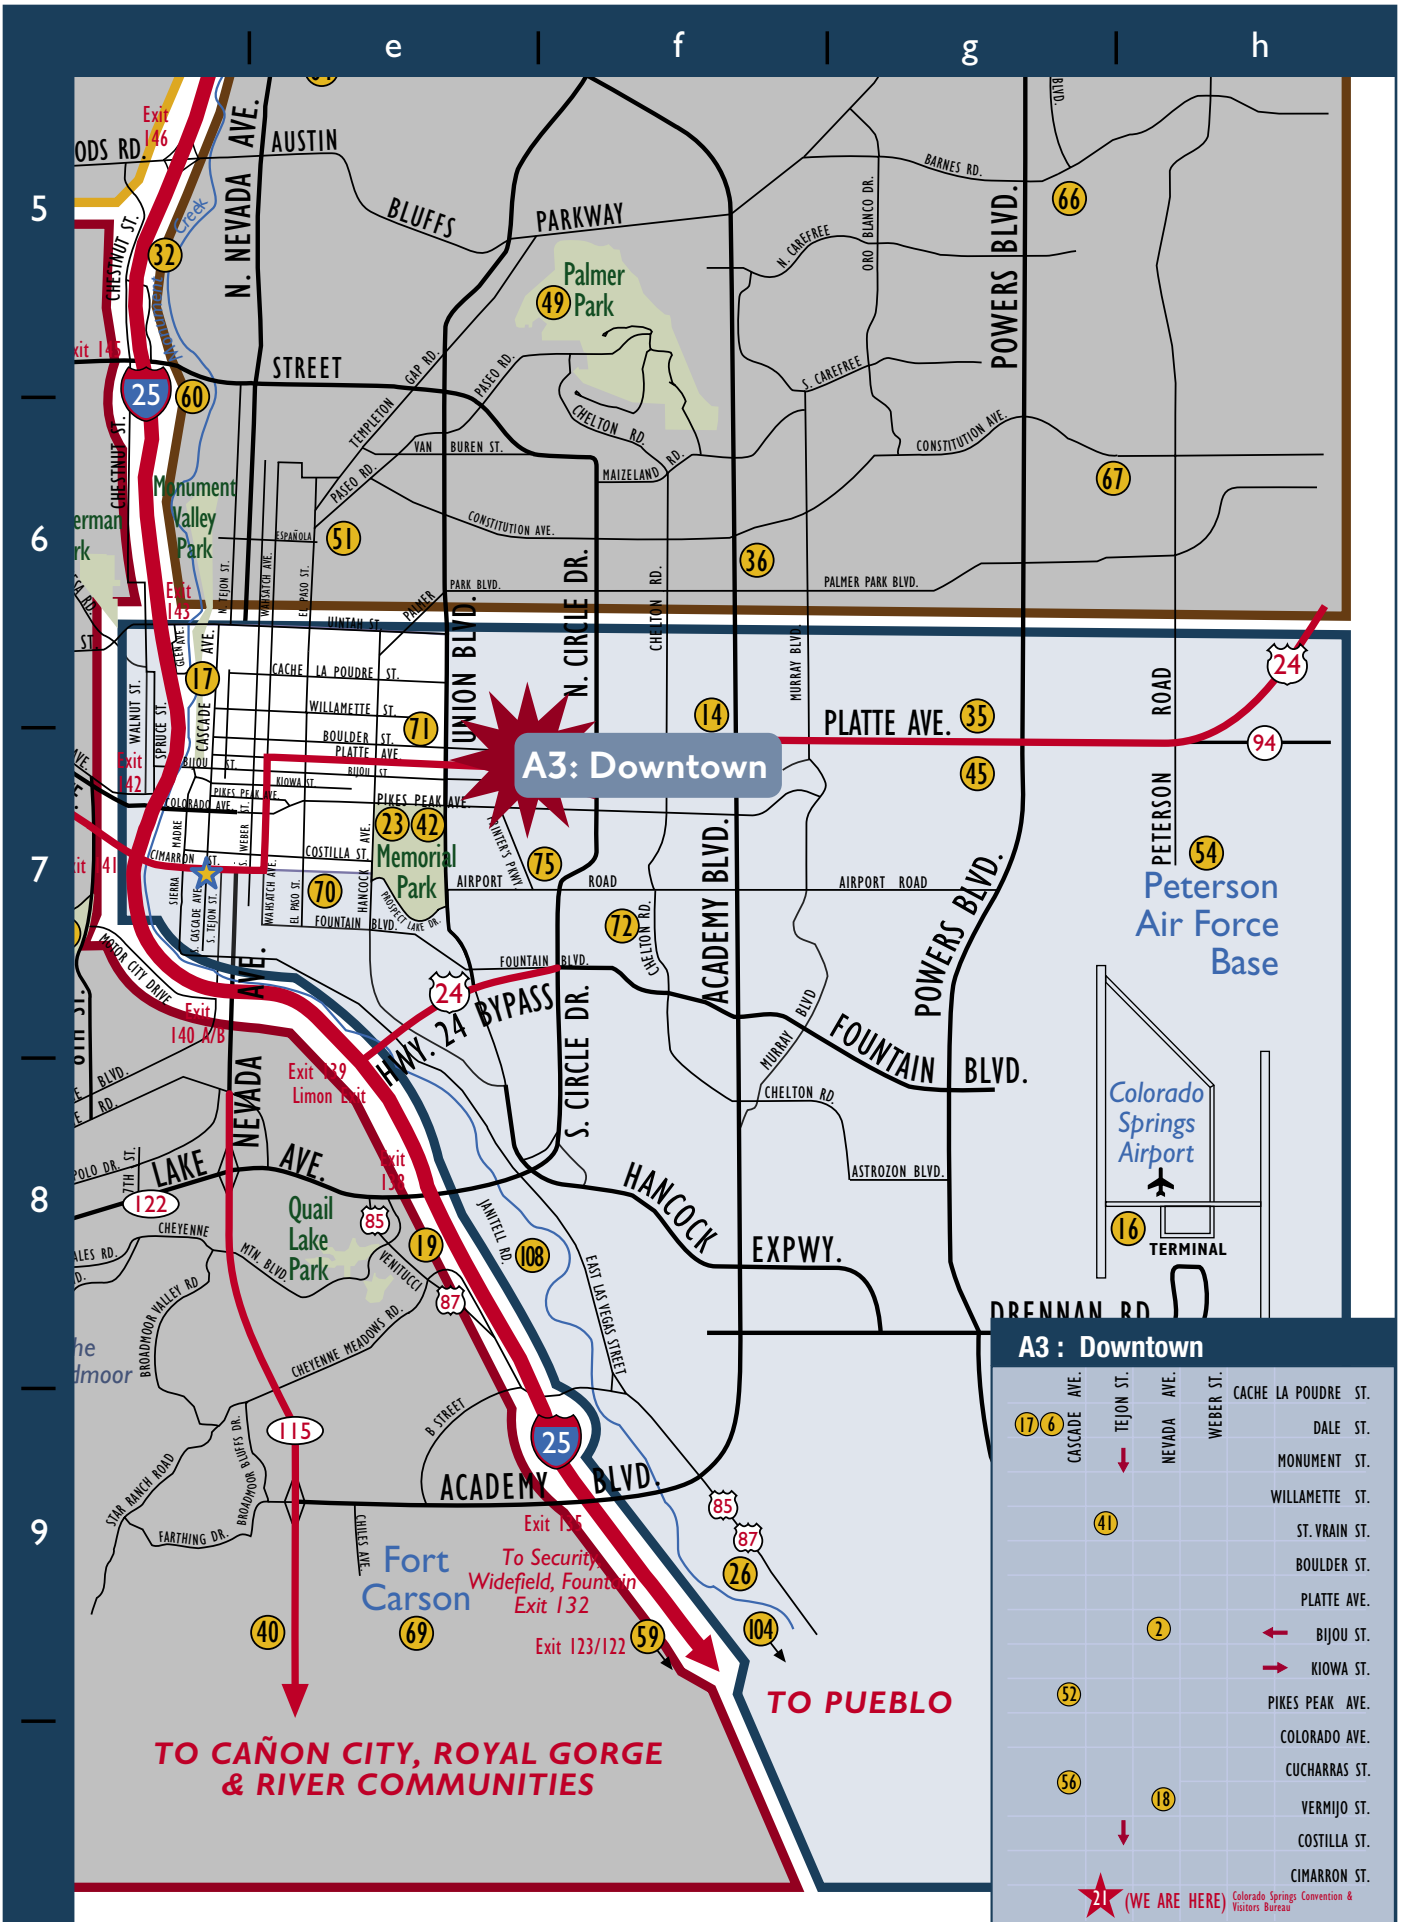

With several reservoirs, rivers and smaller streams, fishing is another popular pastime in the Pikes Peak region. Colorado's mountain rivers provide a golden opportunity to experience trout fishing at its best. The Arkansas River and the South Platte River – each with prime fishing locations approximately one hour from Colorado Springs – have stretches open to both fly and bait fishing all year. Pikes Peak also offers fishing opportunities at the Crystal Reservoir and North and South Catamount Reservoirs. Fishing enthusiasts can spend the day casting in the reservoirs and then catch the sunset from the summit of Pikes Peak.

PARKS AND TRAILS

Colorado Springs' city founder General William Jackson Palmer generously donated 1,270 acres of parkland, bridle and foot paths, scenic drives and roadways planted with trees, to establish a significant foundation for the Colorado Springs park system. These gifts included Acacia (North) Park, Monument Valley Park, Antlers Park, Pioneer Square (South) Park, Palmer Park, North Cheyenne Cañon, Prospect Lake and Bear Creek Cañon. In 1909, the Perkins heirs gave Garden of the Gods Park to the city, adding to the beautiful parkland already established.

The parks of the early 1900s are a vital component of today's system, but park users in this new millennium have 14 large community and regional parks to choose from, with activities ranging from picnicking, swimming and soccer to hiking, biking and nature enjoyment. A large variety of open space areas are intentionally left as undeveloped parkland with natural environments for citizens to enjoy.

Today, Parks, Recreation & Cultural Services manages 7 regional parks, 8 community parks, 123 neighborhood parks, 6 sports complexes and 40 open space areas. Combined, there are over 12,000 acres of parks, trails and open space, and we continue to acquire and maintain more, enhancing the quality of life for the citizens of Colorado Springs. For more information on trails and open space areas, go to www.springsgov.com or call the Colorado Springs Parks and Recreation department at 719-385-5940.

GARDEN OF THE GODS TRADING POST

COLORADO'S OLDEST & LARGEST ART GALLERY & GIFT SHOP

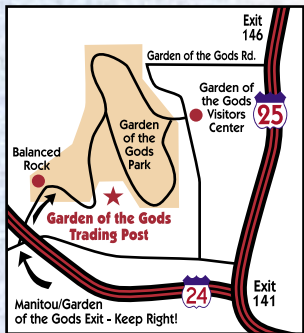

In the early 1900's, local Indian trader Charles E. Strausenback built the Trading Post to resemble the homes of the Pueblo Indians. Through the mid-1950's, Native American silversmiths and artisans worked and lived at the Trading Post fashioning jewelry, weaving blankets, and creating baskets and pottery. While maintaining its heritage, the Trading Post has expanded seven times. Within its walls you will find the world class Art Gallery, a one-of-a-kind gift shop, the Balanced Rock Café, and the Peak View Conference Center. Come and explore all we have to offer.

DOWNTOWN COLORADO SPRINGS

Downtown Colorado Springs has undergone a remarkable transformation during the last decade. It has emerged from a once sleepy state to an energized, evolving community. Today, downtown Colorado Springs features more than 65 dining establishments and nearly 40 retail shops. The streets and walkways are lined with a proliferation of flowers, trees, sculptures, banners and benches. Pack a few items for the day and then spend the day just enjoying all there is to see and do in downtown Colorado Springs. As you drive into the downtown area, take special notice of the historical homes, museums, theatres and shops, visual reminders of the city's earliest beginnings. Just as visitors and residents can spend an entire day in other parts of the Pikes Peak region, downtown Colorado Springs has an array of choices and activities for everyone in the family to enjoy.

Downtown Colorado Springs is accessible on foot, by automobile, public transit or even by bicycle. The area is safe due to an increased commitment in public safety over the past decade. Colorado Springs' downtown has a strong art presence, largely due to the efforts of the Downtown Partnership, which worked to place more permanent art on the streets, as well as advising on the development of an exciting new arts district. The Downtown Partnership continually seeks new ways to bring visual and performing excitement to the community. For more information, go to www.springsgov.com.

ITINERARIES

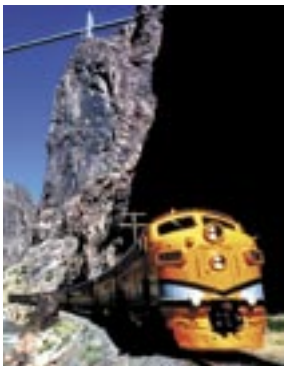

Planning your visit to the Pikes Peak Country region is sure to be lots of fun, but with so much to do, how do you choose? The following easy-to-plan itineraries are designed simply as guidelines, keeping in mind the interests, flexibility and desires of groups. Of course, with more than 50 attractions in the region, feel free to mix and match creating your own plans.

FAMILIES AND KIDS: OPTION ONE

An early start to the day will take you to the world-famous Cheyenne Mountain Zoo, America's only mountain zoo, where you'll watch the staff feed and care for the collection of more than 500 exotic animals. The Zoo's African Rift Valley is as close as you can get to Africa without a passport. Then head for the caves—Cave of the Winds, that is. First opened in 1880, it is the oldest attraction in the region and includes a guided tour through 20 beautiful and colorfully lighted cavern rooms. Now, if you find yourselves all still together, stop by the Ghost Town Museum for a peek at the Old West and relax with a refreshing glass of sarsaparilla.

The Iron Springs Melodrama Dinner Theater offers excellent family dining and entertainment all in one location (and, audience participation is encouraged!)

FAMILIES AND KIDS: OPTION TWO

Take a short, one-hour drive southwest of Colorado Springs where you will enjoy one of America's most spectacular attractions, the Royal Gorge.

For a view from the top, visit the Royal Gorge Bridge and Park. You can walk or drive across the world's highest suspension bridge, which spans 1,053 feet above the Arkansas River, or you can even take the aerial tramway across the gorge. You might also want to enjoy a trip aboard the world's steepest incline railway to the bottom of the canyon. For the ultimate thrill try the new Sky Coaster. For a totally different view of the Gorge and the Arkansas River, ride the Historic Royal Gorge Route Railroad, one of the most spectacular historic railroads in the world. Choose from Coach, first class with delicious appetizers, gourmet lunch or 4-course dinner trains as you ride through the Royal Gorge in style.

Located nearby, enjoy lunch and an afternoon of fun at Buckskin Joe Frontier Town and Railway. The entire family will enjoy this Old West theme park, alive with daily action and fun street shows. While en route back to Colorado Springs, stop by May Natural History Museum where you'll see 7,000 of the world's most beautiful and unusual invertebrates, including giant tropical insects from around the world. Once back in Colorado Springs, enjoy a relaxing family dinner at one of the many downtown restaurants, such as Giuseppe's Old Depot Restaurant where kids can look out from the dining table and watch the trains go by. Afterwards, a short but scenic drive to the Rocky Mountain Chocolate Factory in Old Colorado City is where mouth-watering treats are sure to be found and enjoyed by all.

FAMILIES AND KIDS: OPTION THREE

Your family can enjoy the beauty of Pikes Peak from various vantage points. Head for the summit—Pikes Peak Summit House, Crystal Reservoir and Glen Cove, that is. Enjoy the 19 spectacular miles of Pikes Peak Highway from the comfort of your own vehicle and travel the world's highest toll road to reach the summit of Pikes Peak. Or let everyone be a passenger and take the Manitou & Pikes Peak Cog Railway (reservations required), the highest railroad in the U.S. "The Cog," as it's known locally, has safely and comfortably transported passengers to the 14,110-foot summit for more than 100 years. Once on top, you can enjoy lunch, or at least a world famous high altitude donut! Spend the afternoon at the foot of Pikes Peak in Historic Manitou Springs, one of the largest National Historic Districts in the west. Visit the sparkling, icy cold mineral springs that made Manitou famous. Take a drinking cup and taste as many of these free drinking springs as you want. Historic Manitou Springs also offers wonderful shops and art galleries and an excellent selection of restaurants.

Another option might be the historic site of Rock Ledge Ranch, a living historical farm and agricultural museum depicting life in the Pikes Peak region from 1860 to 1910. Step into the past and discover the spirit of Colorado history as you meander through the 270-acre site nestled against the quiet magnificence of the Garden of the Gods. Another option would be the ProRodeo Hall of Fame and Museum of the American Cowboy. Here you'll enjoy tributes to cowboys participating in the professional sport of rodeo, including live rodeo animals and special exhibits in the new rodeo arena. Next stop might be Seven Falls, which has been called the "grandest mile of scenery in Colorado" with seven separate waterfalls splashing 181 feet down a sheer granite cliff. Take a 224-step stairway to the top, or enjoy the convenience of a mountain elevator to the observation platform for one of the most panoramic views ever imagined.

As an alternative day, we might suggest a short 45-minute drive to the historic town of Cripple Creek. Once there be sure to experience the Cripple Creek & Victor Narrow Gauge Railroad, a 4-mile round trip adventure alongside old mines and ghost towns, or perhaps the Mollie Kathleen Gold Mine, another site of great historical interest.

FAMILIES AND KIDS: OPTION FOUR

It doesn't have to be winter or during the holidays to enjoy Santa's Workshop/North Pole, where believers of all ages can enjoy Christmas all summer long. Enjoy the fun, safe rides, wonderful theater acts, farm animals, and even talk to Santa for an early start on your Christmas list request. Now, if it's a bit cool, take along a cup of coffee or hot chocolate on the aerial tram as you get a bird's eye view of our glorious mountains and countryside. The new Rocky Mountain Dinosaur Resource Center might be your next stop, a center that will be host to some of the most spectacular dinosaurs, marine reptiles, flying reptiles and fish of North America's Late Cretaceous world. Afterwards, The Flying W Ranch will be your destination for a traditional chuck wagon dinner and an old fashioned evening of entertainment. Before partaking in the scrumptious supper, wander through the Old Western Town to observe western lifestyles in action, and perhaps pick up a few last minute gifts and souvenirs. The evening entertainment features nationally recognized musicians, the Flying W Wranglers, who are sure to have you stomping, clapping and singing along.

ACTIVE AND ADVENTUROUS: OPTION ONE

Start the day early with a comfortable van ride to the summit of Pikes Peak, and then take “Pikes Peak by Bike” down the mountain, all coordinated by the professional biking company,

Challenge Unlimited. All equipment you could possibly need is provided! For the really fit actives, you can even hike up Barr Trail, which takes you to the top of Pikes Peak. If rock climbing is more your “speed,” then you’re sure to love AlpenQuest or Gravity Play, where they guide you on an exciting and safe rock-climbing adventure. There are hundreds of trails for hardy backpackers or casual strollers to enjoy the natural beauty of the Pikes Peak region. And you must take a hike, run or bike through the beautiful Garden of the Gods Park. Start your visit to this geological wonder at the Garden of the Gods Visitor and Nature Center. Learn more about the forces of nature that created the park and the amazing array of plants and wildlife that inhabit it. You can travel the bike route through the Garden or get on one of the many trails throughout the park. For a different mode of travel, enjoy a relaxing horseback ride through the stunning red rock desert of the Garden of the Gods arranged through Academy Riding Stables.

If you prefer to bike some more, get on the new Santa Fe Trail, which takes you from the south end of town, north through the Air Force Academy, past Monument and up to Palmer Lake. You can even run the trail for more of a workout! For those left with energy in the evening, the Pikes Peak International Raceway will awaken even the weary with the thrill and action of NASCAR racing at the world’s fastest mile oval.

ACTIVE AND ADVENTUROUS: OPTION TWO

All-day or half-day, thrilling whitewater raft trips await you with reservations made through any of the river rafting companies in our region. Special arrangements are easily made to extend your rafting or float trip up to three days. Some whitewater rafters even offer unique packages, such as “International Trips,” family packages, specialty trips, such as multi-sport days, youth and school, 20th century classical music, and yoga adventures. Whichever option you choose, a genuine Colorado whitewater adventure is one you don’t want to miss and won’t soon forget! For a unique experience try the “Raft-n-Rail” with Echo Canyon and the Historic Royal Gorge Route Railroad. They have teamed up to offer you the excitement of the river with the Historic Royal Gorge Route’s scenic railroad in one continuous excursion.

EASY GOING: OPTION ONE

Start the morning with a free tour of Van Briggie Art Pottery studio and a stop by the gift shop. Then a short drive will take you to Miramont Castle, a museum dedicated to preserving the Victorian heritage of Manitou Springs and the Pikes Peak region. After a stop for lunch at one of Manitou Springs many cafés, the next stop will be the Colorado Springs Fine Arts Center, where you will experience the rich cultures of the Southwest and modern art in an award-winning, art deco facility. While you’re on this side of town, visit the newly remodeled American Numismatic Museum – “The Money Museum.” Also, be sure to visit the Colorado Springs Pioneer Museum, featuring the 1903 El Paso County courthouse and showcasing the region’s history, crafts and artwork. Then enjoy an evening of entertainment at the Flying W Ranch where you’ll experience a chuck wagon barbecue and western entertainment designed to entertain all ages.

EASY GOING: OPTION TWO

An early morning drive will take you to the United States Air Force Academy where you will enjoy an informative exhibit about cadet life in the spacious Visitor Center and Gift Shop. A short walk along a nature trail will lead you to the famous Cadet Chapel. You can end your visit with a self-guided driving tour of the Academy including a large wildlife sanctuary. That afternoon, visit to the nearby Western Museum of Mining and Industry, where you’ll explore Colorado’s rich and colorful mining past and future. You’ll even see the actual operation of reconstructed multi-ton steam engines, drills, locomotives and more. To experience the Royal Gorge consider the Historic Royal Gorge Route Railroad with its world class view of the Gorge and the Arkansas River. Ask about the special lunch and dinner trains.

EASY GOING: OPTION THREE

A short drive to the Garden of the Gods Visitor and Nature Center offers a spectacular and unique view point of the famously photographed red rock formations of the region (don’t forget to bring your camera!) Don’t miss the excellent and exciting 12-minute video. A drive through the Garden of the Gods Park will lead you to the Garden of the Gods Trading Post, Colorado’s largest trading post where you can shop for unique and beautiful souvenirs of the region, as well as have a light or hearty lunch. Next, you’re off to the Manitou Cliff Dwellings where you will learn of the history of the Anasazi Indians dating from 1100 to 1300 A.D., and might even catch authentic Native American dancing.

You don’t have to be a sports enthusiast to enjoy the U.S. Olympic Complex. See where Olympic dreams begin! Visit the U.S. Olympic Complex for a free 1-hour tour that includes a film of Olympic highlights and a walkabout of the training facilities where up to 250 athletes live and train each day. Explore the Visitor Center and purchase unique Olympic-related merchandise at the U.S. Olympic Spirit Store.

If light shows are what you seek, then an evening activity might include a visit to Seven Falls for the light spectacular—the entire canyon is illuminated with lights reflecting off the granite walls and seven water falls. Or, you may choose to enjoy the brilliant laser light show of colorful, animated figures dancing from on the cliff walls of the Cave of the Winds.

NEW TO THE REGION

Red Rock Canyon

Red Rock Canyon is a mostly untouched 787-acre property located between Manitou and Colorado Springs just south of Highway 24 near 31st Street. The property features rock formations comparable to the Garden of the Gods.

The Canyon has been recently purchased by the City of Colorado Springs and is being renovated into a public park. Located at the base of 14,110 foot Pikes Peak, Red Rock Canyon is a vital part of the scenic mountain backdrop to Colorado Springs. Its distinctive red sandstone monoliths and spires, balanced by white limestone and yellow-brown sandstone hogbacks, mark the transition between the plains and the mountains. Its location creates a natural separator between Colorado Springs and Manitou Springs, and also establishes the last link in a continuous corridor of parks, open space and national forest system lands stretching fourteen miles from west central Colorado Springs to the Pueblo County line.

Confluence Park

Confluence Park is a major urban redevelopment project located near the heart of downtown. It forms the cornerstone of the Pikes Peak Greenway and the Midland Corridor. The park is a large civic gathering place at the confluence of Monument and Fountain Creeks in which to hold citywide celebrations, festivals, and other events. The park includes creek side plazas, fountains, walkways, an artisan area, playgrounds and other amenities. Location: Conejos Street, between Colorado Avenue & Cimarron Street.

THE ARTS AND CULTURE

Pikes Peak Center

Built by the citizens of El Paso County in 1982 to serve as a regional entertainment and cultural center, the Pikes Peak Center is the focal point for the performing arts in the Pikes Peak region. Annual performances at the Center cover the entire entertainment spectrum: symphony, opera, musical theatre, drama, rock, country, variety, ballet, and school and civic events.

Tickets can be coordinated in advance of your visit to Colorado Springs through the Center's website at pikespeakcenter.com.

The Colorado Springs Chorale

Now in their 48th season, enjoy classical and holiday performances by the Colorado Springs Chorale, who seek to contribute to the cultural richness of the Pikes Peak region while providing an artistically rewarding choral experience for talented singers. Beethoven, Mozart and Handel are just a few of the featured composers during the 2005 performance schedule. cshorale.org

Colorado Springs Children's Chorale

Beautiful harmonies, lively choreography and purity of tone remain a hallmark of the award-winning Colorado Springs Children's Chorale as it celebrates its 28th anniversary season. Founded in 1977 as a civic children's choir, the Chorale currently trains over 200 children in five choirs to achieve the musical excellence that has become its standard. The Children's Chorale has earned them national recognition as one of the country's outstanding children's choirs and invitations to international choir festivals around the world. Groups of the Chorale have been honored to receive three First Place gold medals in international competition. kidssing.org

Colorado Springs Dance Theatre

The mission of the Colorado Springs Dance Theatre is to promote and enhance the appreciation of and education for the arts of dance in the Pikes Peak region. Now in its 26th season, the Dance Theatre continues its legacy by presenting a widely diverse selection of companies both nationally and internationally known; Flamenco VIVO, River North, Chicago, State Street Ballet – Beauty and the Beast, Ballet Hispanico, Burn the Floor and Pilobolus. csdance.org

The Mosaic Cottage at Greenhaven

This is the guiding philosophy behind John Laing Homes. It's our experience that better ideas lead to better places — from the way a home feels to the way the neighborhood comes together. So in each of the communities where we build — in every single home — you'll find ideas that make home more valuable and life more enjoyable. Like a master bedroom with its own private deck. Or an elegant rotunda entry. Or even a separate guest house for visitors. And we back it all up with award-winning customer support. Because what could be more important than your happiness?

Colorado Festival of World Theatre

Colorado Festival of World Theatre (CFWT) is America's crossroads where each summer, against the breathtaking western setting of Pikes Peak, audiences from around the country meet the best of theatre from all corners of the globe.

The Festival invites distinguished productions from two different countries, bringing the work of both well-known companies, directors, playwrights and designers as well as newly-discovered "rising stars" to the natural and man-made performing spaces specially created by CFWT. United States and western premieres mix with productions that have toured the world to great acclaim – presenting a rich variety of theatrical forms, both classic and contemporary, traditional and cutting-edge, musical and dramatic – all playing in repertory over two weeks.

The inaugural 2005 season will feature shows from Italy, the United Kingdom, and the United States. It will also preview shows from South Africa and Ireland. The festival will run July 15-31, 2005. For more information, call 719-475-1737 or go to cfwt.org.

a train ride into history

Scenic wonders are revealed around every curve as a century-old steam locomotive transports you back to mining days. A treat for railroad and history buffs, kids, and the whole family. Trains leave every 40 minutes (mid-May—mid-Oct.) from our 1894 depot and gift shop at the head of Bennett Avenue in Cripple Creek.
